

Benefits of Rail

Transportation Savings

Freight rail transportation is an essential catalyst for the country's economic development. It is a critical conduit for regional, national and international commerce as it connects suppliers with consumers across nearly every industry. As companies manage their transportation spend, which can account for over 50% of their total operating costs, shipping freight by rail offers a safe, reliable and low-cost transportation solution to ensure competitiveness in our global economy. By providing access to the freight rail network, OmniTRAX enables our customers to compete, succeed and collectively grow the American Communities where we operate.

Almost anyone who ships raw materials or finished goods can save on transportation of their products by using rail via either:

- Direct access by investing in a rail served facility
- Indirect access by a truck to the rail or from the rail to a truck via a transload facility

Please ask an OmniTRAX team member how we can help your business or community benefit from rail. OmniTRAX makes Shipping by Rail Easy.
